Workspace management solutions that just make sense

At AppiXoft we tend to take things personal. Through our high-end User Workspace Management solution Scense, we deliver dynamic applications as well as personal settings in a personalized workspace to many thousands of satisfied users worldwide.

Session : Create an IT environment where end-users are free to choose

Speaker : Dennis van Eijk

Scense provides flexibility and freedom to IT users, wherever they happen to be and regardless of the device used. At the same time, it allows IT administrators to stay fully in control which results in happy faces on both sides. Makes sense, right? Yet, it is still quite common for companies, educational institutions, health care organizations and government agencies to let their users chase their personal settings where it should (and can!) be the other way around!

If you want to bring down lengthy logon times and streamline application delivery, just visit our breakout session or come to our stand where we will gladly answer your questions and you might
